

Dear Patients,

As we continue to face the uncertainty as a community due to Covid-19 and the social distancing guidelines passed down from the federal, state and local leadership, our team at Dr. Giglio's office has realized the continued importance of strong and ongoing relationships.

We want you to know that we are here for you.

When we think about the individuals that bring us joy and fulfill our vision for health and well-being, we immediately think of you, our patients and friends. We miss you greatly and are continuing to find ways of connecting with you regularly and being available for you in any way possible as we get ready for opening the practice beyond emergency appointments.

The original goal of reduction to emergency care was to save personal protective equipment (PPE) for hospitals and clinics in short supply. This also gave us an opportunity to reinforce what we have always done when it comes to sterilization and infection control as well as implement additional steps to make sure that every patient can be assured a SAFE dental experience.

We are very excited that our practice will be opening on June 1st for a wider spectrum of dental care. Our new scheduling options will be implemented in order to address individual needs in a safe and sterile environment.

We also know that obstacles like additional time off from work and financial concerns can be barriers to ideal care. We will utilize our same day dentistry solutions with the intention of affordable care and minimal time expenditure. Rest assured, Dr. Giglio will place the health and well-being of his team and patients first and foremost.

We look forward to seeing you all again and catching up with you at your next appointment.

Stay healthy.

John F. Giglio, D.M.D. and team
